Course Name: Intermedio-alto B2.2 (HSK 4)

Course Syllabus

I . COURSE DESCRIPTION

The HSK 4 Standard Course (Level B) for 2018 September semester is offered for those who have already reached the HSK 3 (3rd level of proficiency test of Chinese language as a foreign language) and who are aiming at HSK 4.

Considering the development of the language competence of the Chinese language learners at intermediate or advanced level, the course designer chooses to make the most of the teaching materials from the course book of HSK4 Standard Course, a very well designed set of course books for HSK candidates and also, of course, for those who want to learn Chinese language following a standard course. This book will be used alternately in view of the difficulty and progress of the learners.

A standard course calls for standard teaching and learning procedures. Accordingly, the language teacher will organize the class into intensive reading activities which are made up of pre-reading discussion on the topic related to the text, in-reading analysis of ideas and language points, and after-reading exercises.

In pre-reading activity, learners will be taken into the topic-based question and answer group work. Both language-based skills and culture-related competence will be incorporated in this phase.

In in-reading activity, key language points in every learning material will be highlighted. Synonym discrimination, collocations and usage of new phrases and expressions will be covered in this respect. Both teacher and learners will work together to summarize the main idea of the paragraph and the whole.

In after-reading exercises, language learners will be brainstormed to complete the exercises after the text. Some exercises will be left for homework.
